SENSATIONAL ASSASSINATION ATTEMPT IN GERMAN EMBASSY IN PARIS

Third Secretary Shot By Polish Youth TO AVENGE SUFFERINGS INFLICTED ON JEWS?

Paris, November 7. AN ATTEMPT TO ASSASSINATE THE THIRD SECRETARY OF THE GERMAN EMBASSY in Paris, Herr von Rath, was made this morning by a young Jewish emigrant of Polish nationality, named Herschel Feibel Grynspan, who fired two shots with a revolver at Herr von Rath, wounding the latter severely. The assailant, who is 17 years of age and in possession of a passport delivered by the Polish Consulate in Paris, called at the Embassy this morning and asked to see the Ambassador's Private Secretary. He was thereupon received by Herr von Rath in the latter's room.

Soon afterwards two shots were heard in rapid succession and when the personnel of the Embassy rushed into the room Herr von Rath was found lying in a pool of blood on the floor. Both shots had been fired at close quarters. One bullet had penetrated into the abdomen and caused a severe wound in the region of the spleen while the other had glanced off the shoulder.

Herr von Rath was immediately conveyed to a nursing home where he will be operated. Police were summoned and the assailant was given in charge. Interrogated at the Police Commissariat, Grynspan stated that he had wished to avenge the sufferings inflicted on Jews, especially on Polish Jews, who had recently been expelled from Germany.

The French Foreign Office has promised the fullest investigation of all the circumstances of the crime, news of which has created the deepest regret in diplomatic circles where Herr von Rath, who is the nephew of the former German Ambassador to Paris, Dr. Koester, enjoyed great popularity. Among the first messages of sympathy received at the Embassy was one from the French Foreign Minister, M. Bonnet.—Transocean.

IMPORTANT DOCUMENT

A Reuters report states that it is alleged the youth entered the German Embassy and asked to see one of the Secretaries saying he had an important document to submit to him. Grynspan was ushered into Herr von Rath's office and handed the document to him.

As Herr von Rath was examining it, Grynspan shouted, "I want to take revenge on you for the suffering your countrymen have caused my fellow Jews." He drew a revolver and fired two shots at Herr von Rath, who was attempting to escape from the Embassy but was overpowered by several members of the staff and handed over to the police mounting guard outside the Embassy.

Herr von Rath is believed to be in a serious condition and is being X-rayed. It is understood that an immediate operation is necessary.

POST OFFICE VAN STOLEN

Marseilles, Nov. 7. A post office van, containing parcels was held up by four robbers while the driver was inside a bar. The marauders locked the driver in the bar and then drove the van away. Although a hue and cry was made, no trace could be found of the vanished vehicle.—Reuter.

GUERRILLAS IN SWATOW DISTRICT RALLY

Japanese Thrust Northward With Hengyang As Objective

(FROM OUR OWN CORRESPONDENT)

Yungyun, November 6. Chinese guerrillas in the Swatow districts have rallied to General Oong Chao-huan as their leader in fighting the Japanese, as General Oong was a commander of the infantry of the 19th Route Army at the Woosung Forts during the first war with the Japanese in Shanghai in 1932.

Other senior generals of the 19th Route Army will emerge from their retirement in view of their fine record in the past.

With the recapture of Samshui by Chinese troops, the Japanese have made a further thrust towards the west but will attempt to march northward to the east of the Canton-Hankow Railway with Kengyang in south Hunan, as their ultimate objective. The immediate point of attack is

MAGISTRATE DETAINED
Irregular, under General Li Fu-lin, have detained Mr. Su Li-ping, magistrate of Shuncheh, because of his absence from his post and his failure to resist the Japanese vanguard consisting of "Manchukuo" and "colonial" troops. A French returned student named Lung led the vanguard to capture Shuncheh and has been appointed as puppet magistrate.

JAPANESE TAKE OVER CONTROL OF FISH MARKETS

Shanghai, Nov. 7. Fish markets in Shanghai and other parts of Central China will in future be controlled by the new 50,000,000 yen Sino-Japanese Fishery Company which has been founded here.

All marketing and distribution of fish and other marine products will be supervised by the company which will operate its own steamers, trawlers and other vessels.

Through the formation of this company another branch of the Chinese industry passes under Japanese control since Chinese participation in the company is sponsored by the Nanjing "reformed government" which in its turn is controlled by the Japanese.—Transocean.

ALL VICTIMS IDENTIFIED

Terrible Fire In Oslo

Oslo, Nov. 7. All the victims, except one, of the catastrophic fire have now been identified. The list contains the names of 18 men, some married couples and a few quite young girls who had been invited to the entertainment. Brandstrup's brother and the latter's wife were both killed.

No fewer than seven members of the photographer Brandstrup's family are among the victims including the well-known singer, Karin Brandstrup.

The victims include 18 men, some married couples and a few quite young girls who had been invited to the entertainment. Brandstrup's brother and the latter's wife were both killed.

SPREAD RAPIDLY
The fire broke out in a four-storey building in Oslo, and spread with such rapidity that many of the inmates could not be rescued. Four persons sprang from the windows of the fourth floor and were killed instantaneously on striking the ground. "It is thought that the fire began in a photographer's studio where a festival had been celebrated on Saturday.—Transocean.

MR. CHAMBERLAIN, MUSSOLINI TO MEET SOON?

London, Nov. 7. Informed political quarters are speaking of arrangements having already been made for a meeting of Mr. Chamberlain and Signor Mussolini in the second half of January or at least some time in the first three months of next year. The Berlin correspondent of the "Daily Express" speaks of the probability of a visit to London of Field-Marshal Goerring while it is not unlikely, he says, that Herr Joachim von Ribbentrop, German Foreign Minister, will pay a visit to Paris.—Transocean.

BOMBAY MILL STRIKE

Bombay, Nov. 7. One man was injured when strikers clashed with the police in the mill district where a strike has been on since yesterday in protest against the Trade Disputes Bill.

The strike is not serious, however, as only eight out of 82 mills in Bombay are closed.—Reuter.

THE TYPHOON

The typhoon was reported last night to be within 60 miles of latitude 17 N, longitude 113 E, stationary or moving very slowly. The disturbance is reported to be of a severe nature and is 400 mile south of Hongkong.

POST OFFICES RAIDED

Arabs Steal Gold Bars, Parcels

Jerusalem, Nov. 7. Arabs raided two post offices in Haifa yesterday taking gold bars to a value of 2750 at one post office and registered parcels, containing gold and valuables to a value of 3800, at the other.

The confiscation at a warehouse in Haifa's harbour section was reported to be a serious and caused damage estimated at 250,000.—Transocean.

PLANE MISSING

Jerusalem, Nov. 7. Heavy storms and cloudbursts caused great damage in Palestine yesterday.

A four-motored plane of the Misr Line flying on the Baghdad-Cairo route is missing, with a crew of three aboard.—Transocean.

PRAYERS FOR PEACE

London, Nov. 7. Seven thousand Jewish ex-servicemen paraded in Whitehall yesterday when two Jewish holders of the Victoria Cross laid a wreath at the Cenotaph.

The service was conducted by the Chief Rabbi in Britain who prayed that success will attend the British efforts for peace.—Reuter.

RECORD FLIGHT FROM EGYPT TO AUSTRALIA

Darwin, Nov. 7. Two of the Vickers Wellesley planes belonging to the R. A. F. long-range unit, Numbers One and Three, landed at Darwin to-day at 1.32 and 1.35 p.m. (local time), to a value of 2750 at one post office and registered parcels, containing gold and valuables to a value of 3800, at the other.

Number Two machine landed at Koepang, in the Dutch East Indies, owing to petrol shortage, but after refuelling took off again for Darwin.—Reuter.

EXCELLENT FLIGHT

Darwin, Nov. 7. The third bomber arrived from Koepang at 7.40 G. M. T. The bomber which landed at Koepang broke the Russian record by approximately 300 miles. The planes are fitted with Bristol Pegasus engines.

"I never felt better," said Squadron Leader Killett to Reuter as he stepped from his plane. "We had an excellent flight and apart from storms over India experienced no discomforts. My only regret is that one of the machines was forced to land at Koepang for lack of fuel."

The planes made perfect landings on Fannie Bay aerodrome here. Squadron Leader Killett stated that he would remain for about four days before flying southward. The members of the crews showed little signs of the journey except that their eyes were reddened from sunburn. They superintended the overhauling and refuelling of the machines which are little worse for their arduous test.—Reuter.

FRENCH INTEREST

Paris, Nov. 7. The R. A. F. record-breaking flight is described as admirable by a high official of the French Air Ministry. The flight has attracted the greatest attention here not only as a feat of aviation, but a demonstration of the capabilities of the new type bombers.—Reuter.

SMALL-POX REPORTED IN SHANGHAI

Shanghai, Nov. 7. A number of cases of small-pox are reported among the Japanese community here although the disease so far is apparently confined to the Japanese controlled area of the International Settlement, north of Soochow Creek. It is feared that it may spread.—Transocean.

TRADITIONAL FRIENDSHIP BETWEEN BRITAIN AND PORTUGAL

Governor Pays Official Visit To Macao

WARM RECEPTION

SENTIMENTS REAFFIRMING THE traditional friendship between Great Britain and Portugal were expressed at the official luncheon in Macao yesterday at which His Excellency the Governor of Hongkong, Sir Geoffrey Northcote, K.C.M.G. was guest of His Excellency the Governor of Macao, Dr. Artur Tamagnini de Sousa Barbosa.

This luncheon was the main function on Sir Geoffrey's programme on his official visit to the Portuguese Colony. His Excellency and Lady Northcote left Hongkong in H.M.S. Falmouth at 8 a.m., reaching Macao at 11.30 a.m. They were accompanied by Captain S. H. Batty-Smith, A.D.C., and Mr. G. Trevorton, Private Secretary. Following the introduction of senior officials and inspection of the Guard of Honour, His Excellency and party lunched with the Governor of Macao.

Governors' Speeches
His Excellency Dr. Barbosa said: Your Excellency, On behalf of the Colony of Macao and in my own name, I offer Your Excellency my most cordial thanks for your visit to Macao. Lady Northcote has deigned to accept my invitation to accompany you. Your Excellency on this, for us, very felicitous occasion, she has thus honoured us very greatly and has earned the gratitude of each and every one of us, principally my own.

My memory is filled with treasured recollections of evidences of friendly welcomes and countless courtesies accorded to me so often in Hongkong, nor will I ever forget the warm and intimate reception given to me by Your Excellency when I visited your Colony to repay the visit made to me by the Hon. Mr. N. L. Smith, as Officer Administering the Government, on October 22 last year.

Believe me, Sir Geoffrey and Lady Northcote, your presence here to-day fills us with a very deep and sincere gratification, and as the (Continued on Back Page)

CONDITIONS IN SHEKKI DESCRIBED

Authorities Preparing To Resist Japanese

(SPECIAL TO THE "HONGKONG DAILY PRESS")
Conditions in Shekki, capital of the Model District of Chungshan, were described yesterday to a representative of the "Hongkong Daily Press" by a gentleman who has just returned from there to report to the Hongkong Chungshan Residents' Association on the atrocities perpetrated by the Japanese.

According to this informant, Mr. Fang Pan-nung, Japanese aeroplanes flew over Shekki on November 4, saying that Canton had been recaptured and that the city would be bombed for three successive days in the event of the people of Chungshan District refusing to surrender peacefully to the invaders.

At eight o'clock on the same morning, Mr. Fang said, Japanese airmen opened fire with machine-guns on innocent non-combatants and five hours later a plane flew over Shekki and dropped a bomb. The Tahnian Bridge, over which everybody going to Macao must pass, is liable to be cut off by the Japanese at any moment and report has it that some thirty Japanese destroyers have been sighted off Tungshan, apparently preparatory to a landing being made by the invading force.

REFUGEES ROBBED
Banditry is in full swing on account of the fact that the authorities are finding themselves fully occupied in making preparations to resist the Japanese, with the result that the desperadoes are taking advantage of the situation and are frequently waylaying and robbing refugees who happen to be passing their way, Mr. Fang added. Bandits are especially active along the Shulam-Shekki highway.

According to a telephone message received in Shekki, furious fighting is going on between the Chinese forces and the invaders in the Shulam county, which has been incessantly bombed. Numerous civilians have been killed and innumerable corpses are piled up along the main streets and alleyways.

The majority of inhabitants of Shekki, our informant stated, had evacuated the town and taken refuge elsewhere but all able-bodied young men are remaining and have been concentrated at a specified place. Some of these young men have expressed the wish to open fire on Japanese planes with rifles should they fly low over Shekki.

All shops in Shekki have been closed and the city is almost deserted, Mr. Fang concluded.

Kalzana is a remarkable food containing no drugs whatsoever.

In hot countries one's diet and the extent to which one perspires tend to decrease the mineral contents of the body. Many complaints such as irritability, high blood pressure, dizziness, acidity, which are so often ascribed to "the climate" are due largely to this loss of minerals.

When you do not feel as well as you should, start taking Kalzana tablets. They will soon put you right.

THEFT OF WALLET AT KAI TAK

LI Hui, 29 years of age, was convicted by Mr. E. Himsforth at the Kowloon Court yesterday of larceny of a wallet containing $55 and an Air Force pass, the property of Aircraftman I. Williams, of the R.A.F. Barracks, Kai Tak.

LI was recommended by his father to the post of room-boy at the Barracks. On October 24, two days after he began work, Mr. Williams reported that his wallet was missing. LI, it was found, had absconded.

Defendant's father was informed of the theft. When his son returned home a few days later, it was his father who arrested him. The money in the wallet had been spent or gambled away at Macao, but the wallet and the pass were recovered.

LI was fined $150 or, in default, three months' hard labour.

SHROFF GAOLED FOR EMBEZZLEMENT

Wong Chu-ki, 40, a shroff, was sentenced to one month's hard labour, when he appeared before Mr. R. Edwards at the Central Court yesterday on a charge of embezzlement of a sum of $229.50 from his employers, the Seven Districts' Clansmen Association.

Defendant was left in charge of the money which he had collected, and it was alleged that between August 20 and October 27 he had converted the money to his own use.

Wong was also ordered to pay a compensation of $100 to the Association, failing which an additional sentence of two months' imprisonment was imposed.

NEW RIVER GUNBOAT

H.M.S. Scorpion In Colony

The new British river gunboat, H.M.S. Scorpion, built by Messrs. White of Cowes, and destined to be flagship of the Rear-Admiral and Senior Naval Officer in the Yangtze, arrived yesterday from Singapore.

She will undergo trials here, following which she will be accepted for service in the Navy, and will take the place of the Bee, which was built 23 years ago.

IN HARBOUR

The following British men-of-war were in harbour yesterday:—Dorsetshire (cruiser); Westcott, Delight, Duchess, Thracian, Decoy, Diamond, Dainty (destroyers); Eagle; Medway; Sandwich (sloop); Scorpion, Seamew (gunboats); and the 4th submarine flotilla.

There are two American ships, the Tulsa and the John D. Ford, and a number of Chinese Maritime Customs cruisers.

DISTURBANCE IN WINGLOK ST.

ANTI-JAPANESE DEMONSTRATION

BENCH'S COMMENT

Strong anti-Japanese sentiments on the part of coolies was responsible for disturbances which occurred in Winglok Street on Saturday.

Police reinforcements were called out to restore order. The trouble, it was learned, took place during the loading of a quantity of wolfram ore into a Japanese ship, an O. S. K. liner, for shipment from a Chinese shop in Winglok Street.

A large crowd of coolies collected outside the shop and resented the ore being removed from the shop to a Japanese ship and during the demonstrations a window at No. 217 Winglok Street was broken.

In an attempt to disperse the crowd, a district watchman was forced to draw his revolver to keep off the hostile crowd while he was effecting an arrest.

MAN CHARGED

Before Mr. J. Houston at the Central Court yesterday a man was charged with malicious damage and disorderly conduct. He was fined $50, in default, one month and $25 or two weeks' imprisonment, respectively.

"As long as you remain in this neutral territory, this sort of conduct will not be allowed," remarked Mr. Houston.

Defendant pleaded that he did not break the window intentionally. He had joined the crowd and heard some remarks regarding wolfram ore being smuggled to a Japanese steamer.

Detective-Sergeant Macvey was in charge of the case, and told the Court that the owners and folks of the shop had disappeared during the disturbances.

YOUTHS SENTENCED FOR SNATCHING

Two unemployed youths, Cheng Yim-nam and Chan Fong, each with two previous convictions for larceny by snatching, were convicted again for the same offence at the Kowloon Court yesterday.

Cheng was sentenced by Mr. Himsforth to six months' hard labour and 12 strokes of the cane, and Chan was sentenced by Mr. Macfadyen to six months and eight strokes. Both the victims of the snatchers were women, and one of them a woman with a baby in her arms.

Cheng is 19 years of age, Chan only 18.

TAILORS BRING CLAIM

Cloth Alleged To Be Not Usable

A claim for $247.04, being the price paid for piece goods purchased by the plaintiff, Chan Chohim, trading as the Yee On-tai firm, tailors, from the Chan Choong firm of Des Voeux Road Central was heard before Mr. Justice E. H. Williams, Acting Puisne Judge, at the Summary Court yesterday.

Mr. M. A. da Silva appeared for the plaintiff and Mr. S. Ng Quinn represented the defendants.

The claim arose out of the purchase of some linen piece goods which plaintiff firm, it is alleged, purchased from the defendant. The goods were stamped with a trade mark, "World Piece Goods Manufacturing Company," and professed to be made by a foreign company.

Chan Chi-man, son of Chan Chohim who was the owner of the firm, said that he purchased the goods from the defendant and had the material cut up into suit lengths. A suit was ordered by a customer and when it was ready it was delivered. Next day, the customer returned and brought the suit with him. The seat of the trousers was torn from end to end. The customer explained that this had been the result of his attempting to squat.

Plaintiff tested the cloth and discovered that the material was very easy to tear and was not usable. He refunded the customer with a different suit and, after testing the "remaining four rolls of the same material in his shop, went to the defendant and informed them about it but defendant firm, through a man named Siu, with whom plaintiff had had dealings before, and whom plaintiff knew to have authority, told him that the matter would have to be referred to the foreign firm. Nothing was heard for a long time and eventually plaintiff took out the claim.

At this stage the hearing was adjourned.

CROWN LAND SALE

Bidding for the three lots of Crown land at the P. W. D. Offices yesterday was not very keen.

Inland Lot No. 5383, the largest of the three lots offered, with a total area of 14,800 square feet, was bought by Mr. Yau Tak-wing, on behalf of himself and Mr. Chan Chung-hung, for $18,100, as much as 63 per cent above the upset price. The lot is situated at Tin Hau Temple Street.

Kowloon Inland Lot No. 4046, 1145 square feet situated at Tam Kung Road, Ma Tau Chung, was bought for $1,350 by Mr. Lau Tak-fan, merchant, of No. 71, Nathan Road.

Kowloon Inland Lot No. 2639, covering an area of 3500 square feet at Tai Po Road, Shamshuipo, was sold to the Hin Tung Yick Co. Mr. Poon Hau-chak being present to bid on their behalf, for only $12,300.

An application made by Det. Sgt. J. Forrest for the confiscation of 69 rounds of .38 calibre ammunition, found underneath a mat in a back lane of Nathan Road at 9.55 p.m. on Friday, was granted by Mr. E. Himsforth, the Police Magistrate, at the Kowloon Court yesterday.

SCHOOLS SECTION

St. Joseph's Activities

In a tense atmosphere charged with war rumours we embarked, on September 7, upon our 64th scholastic year writes the Rev. Brother Director of St. Joseph's College. The classes were full, and to accommodate the new applicants who had passed the entrance examination, extra classes had to be fitted out for about 80 boys so that in the reshuffle of the class-rooms the matriculation students found themselves squeezed out of the school building proper.

They now occupy the very room in which the Senior Class was housed from 1918 to 1921. Newly redecorated and refurnished, it looks quite cheerful.

When the Double Tenth came it found a group of over a hundred enthusiastic students of the upper classes gathered round a dozen of their teachers to celebrate the occasion in such a manner as belittled these troublous times. Patriotic speeches were given by the chairman of the meeting, by Rev. Brother Cassian, Sub-Director, and some teachers.

Prayers were offered for China, for her leaders and her valiant armies, and all were urged to contribute to the war fund and the relief of refugees.

DISTINGUISHED VISITOR

About the middle of October, Rev. Brother Director, the Rev. Brothers, the lay staff and the boys had the pleasure of entertaining Very Rev. Brother Romuald Hoesa, Assistant Superior-General of the Brothers of the Christian Schools. He arrived from Rome via Canada, Japan and Manchuria, where he had been visiting the establishments of the Order on his five-yearly inspection tour.

He was guest of honour at a concert here. At its conclusion he thanked all those responsible for such a fine entertainment, especially Rev. Brother Louis and his tiny tots and the Scouts; he also thanked the student body for the address given to him, and to the great joy of all, he gave a half-holiday.

INTER-CLASS COMPETITIONS

Under the management of the Sportsmaster, Rev. Brother Alphonsus, the inter-class competitions in football, basketball and softball are in full swing. Such has been the enthusiasm of the boys that the playground every day resounds with cheer in the morning, at noon and after school. The aim of such competitions, apart from fulfilling that of the physical fitness campaign, is to select boys for league games, for which the College every year enthusiastically enters at least three teams.

In this connection it may be mentioned that we have won the Inter-School Swimming, Shield, and have entered the Softball, the Basketball and the Football Leagues.

GASTRIC TROUBLE OF 'BUSMEN

'More Liable' Than Other Workers

The effect of the working conditions of London 'busmen on their health is the subject of an interim statement presented to the Minister of Labour by members of a conference who were appointed after the bus strike in May last year, says the "Daily Telegraph."

Evidence submitted to the Court which inquired into the stoppage showed there was a widespread feeling among the men that their work was unduly exacting in its conditions and injurious to their health in its effect. While finding that the evidence did not provide conclusive proof of the contention, the Court said a prima facie case had been made out for further investigation. Making the appropriate allowance for differences between the age distributions of the omnibus and tramway workers, it was found that in 1933-35 the omnibus drivers had a relative excess of gastric sickness, in proportion to sickness from all causes of 12-14 per cent. over the figure shown by the tramway drivers, while the omnibus conductors had a similar excess of 15-18 per cent. over the figure shown by the tramway conductors.

A "SEVERE" COMPARISON
It is agreed, however, that the Industrial Health Research Board report presents valid evidence that the 'busmen were, in the years covered by the investigation, 1933-35, rather more liable to illnesses attributed to the digestive system than a group of operatives who may be taken as a reasonable standard of comparison. It is pointed out since the issue of the report a new agreement has been reached providing easement of conditions, but it is too early to say what effect these changes have had on the health of the men.

The members of the conference are Mr. John Forster, chairman, Dr. D. Munro and Dr. A. Bradford Hill, Medical Research Council, Mr. T. E. Thomas and Mr. F. A. A. Menzies, London Passenger Transport Board, and Mr. Harold Clay and Mr. J. J. Mills, Transport and General Workers Union.

The body of Aircraftman Maurice Kennedy Cameron, 20, was found on the railway line at Laverstock, two miles from Salisbury.

More than 500 men on strike at the White City, Shepherd's Bush, housing estate returned to work, the dispute with the contractors being settled.

China And Its Problems

SIR ERIC TEICHMAN'S STUDY

AFFAIRS OF CHINA. BY SIR ERIC TEICHMAN (METHUEN 12s. 6d.).

DURING HIS 30 YEARS IN CHINA, except for two years on "special service" in the Great War period and three years at the Foreign Office, Sir Eric Teichman was at headquarters of the British Legation or Embassy at Peking or Nanking, writes Edwin Haward, former editor of the "North-China Daily News," in the "Daily Telegraph."

He managed to include in that experience an important journey to Tibet, a tour in North-West China and, at the end, in 1935, a cross-country trek from Peking through Turkestan to India—a feat of endurance which won high commendation and produced a book ("Journey to Turkestan") described by Sven Hedin as the best written on conditions in Sinkiang at the time.

Official duties, as the expert adviser on Chinese politics to successive Ministers and Ambassadors, put Teichman "behind the scenes" during the whole of the period which saw the rise of the Chinese Republic from the ashes of the old Empire, through the vicissitudes of that violent revolution, to within measurable approach of unity and reconstruction under General Chiang Kai-shek. The merit of his survey is unquestionable.

Unfashionably discreet, as some might think, he lucidly explains the political issues which have dominated China's relations with the West and her constant struggle for unity in the face of Japanese "blows and obstruction."

He sees that the pre-war "treaty" system which put China in semi-subjection to the major foreign Powers—however necessary that system was at the time of its inception 100 years ago—and Japan's failure to respond to modern standards have been chiefly responsible for the struggle now proceeding.

The very efforts made by the Chinese to remove the reproach of disunity, most frequently heard from Japanese lips, engendered a nationalism which brought them into conflict.

Chinese nationalism lays itself open to the charge of having advanced blindly and without regard to the inevitable consequences into a head-on collision with Japan. The nations of Europe and America were, it was obvious, prepared to surrender their stranglehold on China's economic and political existence.

On the other hand, the Japanese, with much greater and more vital interests at stake, had clearly shown that they would yield nothing without suitable return. It was common knowledge that their generals would strike if sufficiently provoked in South Manchuria. Yet it is easy to be wise after the event.

The extreme nationalism of the period had the bit between the teeth, and, encouraged by the attitude of Britain and America, pressed forward without regard to consequences.

"A FURY OF RESISTANCE"

But, although there was this amount of justification for Japan's action in Manchuria in 1931—if the "provocation" be accepted as proved—Sir Eric is unhesitating in condemning the insatiable appetite of Japan's militarists who, in the years which followed, "roused a fury of resistance in a China unlit as it had never been before."

THE ARMY

CANDIDATES FOR CADET COLLEGES

Keen competition for entry to the Cadet Colleges is probable in the near future and there may be many candidates for the annual quota of four Hon. King's Cadets at the Royal Military Academy and 10 at the Royal Military College.

The rules governing the cadetships have been altered to include the sons of officers who have completed not less than 18 years' commissioned service, or whose total service to count towards time for promotion is not less than 16 years, or who have obtained the brevet or substantive rank of science, II; 2 to 5 p.m. practical major and have performed long or distinguished service.

Applications for a King's Cadetship or for an Hon. King's Cadetship at the R.M.A. or R.M.C. should be submitted as early as possible. Applications received after the first day of the examination for which the candidates intend to sit will not be considered.

ROYAL AIR FORCE

EXAMINATION FOR SHORT SERVICE OFFICERS

A large increase has been made in the number of short-service officers of the general duties branch who have been accorded permission to sit for the examination to be held next month for permanent commissions.

The examination is normally held in the first week of November, but on this occasion will not be held until November 15 and 16.

There are 251 flying officers in the list of candidates, 164 from home commands and 87 abroad. This compares with 94 last year (45 at home and 49 abroad) and 81 in 1936 (47 at home and 34 abroad). The rule is to consider once annually at the Air Ministry the names of all short-service officers who are recommended for permanent commissions or for medium service (an extension of five years on the active list) or for both.

Officers who pass highest in the examination are selected for permanent commissions by specialization up to the number of vacancies in each branch. The balance of the year's vacancies for permanent commissions to short-service officers are allotted to the remaining candidates, preference being given to those (suitable) for employment as flying instructor.

Each officer has the one chance of selection, and his qualifications are balanced against those of his contemporaries so as to secure a strictly equitable consideration of the merits of all competitors.

The subjects of the examination will be:—November 15, 9 a.m. to 12 noon, practical and applied mathematics; 2 to 5 p.m., general technical science I; November 16, 9 to 12, general technical science, II; 2 to 5 p.m. practical Geometry and mechanical drawing.

RAIL CONTRASTS AT EUSTON

L.M.S. Celebrates 100 Years' Progress

A 100-year-old locomotive, the Lion, emitting dense clouds of steam and making loud hissing noises, moved slowly out of Euston Station recently, driven by a bewhiskered driver and fireman.

Closely following it was the ultra-modern streamlined Duchess of Gloucester, driven by Lord Stamp, chairman of the L.M.S. This effective illustration of railway progress during the past century was further emphasised by an exhibition, comprising 200 coaches, locomotives and other exhibits, which was opened by the Lord Mayor of Birmingham, Councillor E. R. Canning, to commemorate the centenary of the London and Birmingham Railway. Now, of course, an integral part of the L.M.S.

GATEWAY TO THE NORTH

In a short speech Lord Stamp said: "One hundred years ago Euston became the gateway to the North. In those days it took five hours to get to Birmingham. Now it takes just under two hours. The London and Birmingham Railway was the first railway connecting two great centres of population."

"Euston in those days was a metropolitan curiosity. Set among green fields, which were the haunt of footpads, it was quite an adventure to get to it. Signals then were semaphores and constables performed the duties of signalmen."

The exhibition is a fascinating one and should be very popular. A walk down Platform 6, which is the site of the original Euston departure platform, and has been transformed for a week into a museum, brings one to Queen Adelaide's saloon, built in 1842, and the Cornwall, a locomotive which was built in 1847 and has driving wheels 8 ft. in diameter.

QUEEN VICTORIA'S SALOON

Another wonderful old engine is Old Coppernob, built in 1849, which worked for 50 years on the Old Furness Railway. This locomotive, with its enormous copper boiler, which gives it its name, will be a very popular exhibit.

Overshadowing them all, in size, if not in glory, is the modern monster locomotive which draws the Coronation Scot.

Perhaps the highlight of the exhibition is the discreetly curtained Royal Saloon of Queen Victoria, built in 1889 and decorated like a Victorian drawing-room, with divans and chairs of blue moire silk and lovely sycamore and maple woodwork. A small compartment in the rear of the coach was set aside for John Brown, the Queen's faithful servant.

THE QUEEN MARY IS DOCKED BY MEDAL

A ton of skilled British seamanship; a hundredweight of British courage, and an ounce of St. Christopher—helped to dock the 83,000-ton Queen Mary without tugs at New York on October 18.

Commodore Robert Irving found New York Harbour paralysed by a tug-boat strike when he brought the ship up Bay. Strikers laughed and jeered, thinking the liner's 1,600 passengers would be prisoners on board until the strike was over.

But with a medal of St. Christopher—patron saint of mariners—rowing-boat, motor-launch and a profusion of hawesers, Irving brought the liner safely to the pier.

Commodore Irving's feat was greeted with cheers and cries of "How did you do it?"

Irving who is not Catholic, but Presbyterian, said: "I looked at my St. Christopher medal and asked if I could make the pier without tugs. He told me to go to it, so I did."

The passengers were thankful one gave the Commodore a medal with the inscription, "Behold St. Christopher—and so they were safe."

The company were thankful they were saved $120, the charge for twelve tugs. "I brought her in just like a ferry-boat," said Irving later to British United Press. "She came in all right, but I haven't stopped thinking yet. It was all in the lap of the gods."

CHINESE JUNKS IN LONDON

Model Collection For Museum

A unique exhibition of models of Chinese junks and sampans, presented to the nation by Sir Frederick Mase, Inspector-General of the Chinese Maritime Customs, was opened by the Chinese Ambassador in London, Dr. Quo Tai-chi, at the Science Museum in South Kensington a few days ago.

The ten large-scale models of various types of junks were built in Hongkong and Shanghai by Chinese craftsmen, whose work is not only very beautiful, but strictly accurate down to the smallest details of rigging and decoration. One big model of a Foochow junk, bearing the legendary ocular on her bows, might be some fantastic sea monster.

The collection has great practical value, since the world can still learn a good deal from the wooden junk, which rapidly giving way to steam in Chinese waters, is disappearing in the wholesale destruction of the present war.

TWO TYPES

Lt.-Commander J. K. D. Hutchison, who is in charge of the small craft section of the Museum, pointed out that, except for minor details of rigging, the general principles of Chinese craft have not altered for at least a thousand years—for five thousand years, in the view of many experts.

The main division of Chinese craft into two types, northern and southern, is clearly shown in the models—the one with a bluff bow and flat bottom, for use in shallow waters, the other with a sharp bow, finer lines, and deeper draught.

WATERTIGHT

Watertight compartments have been a feature of these junks from ancient times, whereas they were not adopted in the West until the advent of iron in the middle of last century. The Bermuda battened sail in yacht racing is another adaptation from Chinese practice.

Other features clearly illustrated in the models include the use of leeboards either in the form of dagger keels or more often a long rudder that is hoisted or lowered by a winch; self-reefing, battened sails that enable the ships to weather some of the worst seas in the world; and multiple sheets, by which the upper, as well as the lower, part of the sail may be trimmed. Every detail down to shrines and household gods is reproduced in the models.

Pilot Outlines Plans

Mr. Harold I. June, chief pilot of the 1934 Byrd Expedition to the Antarctic, arrived at Southampton from Durban by air recently. He said he hopes to join Rear-Admiral R. E. Byrd in a third aerial expedition, to the South Pole, planned for 1940.

He stated that it was intended to approach the Polar seas from South Africa and Rear-Admiral Byrd planned to fly over land 2,000 miles wide and 1,900 miles deep which had never yet been seen by human beings.

Mr. June expressed the opinion that untold wealth

"GOD HELPS THOSE WHO HELP THEMSELVES," —Adolf Hitler

Welmar, November 7.

Herr Adolf Hitler yesterday addressed a gathering of 50,000 on the occasion of the final meeting of the Thuringia Party Congress at the Stadium at Welmar, birthplace of the former German republic. The leader of the Thuringia section of the Nazi Party welcomed Herr Hitler as the leader of the third Holy German Empire of the Teutonic race.

After referring at some length to the history of the Nazi movement, Herr Hitler reiterated that Germany only wanted to be left alone in peace. Nazis believed, and they asked others to believe, that God would help only those who helped themselves.

Herr Hitler proceeded to say that he was ready to negotiate, but he would never tolerate Germany's rights being trampled on either in negotiation or in any other way. Therefore he warned the German people always to be alert and watchful.

"It is very well to speak of disarmament and peace, but as long as there is no spiritual disarmament all talk about disarmament isn't worth much," he declared.

WAR AGITATORS

Referring to the war agitators in Britain, Herr Hitler said that they felt hurt because he dared mention them. Of course they had no right to demand other States to change their constitution. Democracies especially ought to understand the German philosophy of life when they speak of equality and rights, and the rights of small States. What objection can they have if the big people demand the same rights.

The new territories would be true links of the Reich, but they also had a great obligation. As long as others only spoke of disarmament, they did not believe them.

"I can assure Mr. Churchill and his friends that it only happened once, and it will never happen again," concluded Herr Hitler.—Reuter.

NAZI THEORIES ATTACKED

Christian Concepts Defended

Munich, Nov. 7.

An outspoken defence of Christian principles against the theories of National Socialism was made by Cardinal Faulhaber, Archbishop of Munich, when addressing 5,000 people yesterday.

He said that citizens had their rights as well as their duties. They had rights to demonstrate their faith. Citizens should not be impeded in their worship by the threat of exclusion from the national community.

Character must have the right to express itself, and persons must not be called traitors because they wish to maintain connections with the Catholic Church.

Cardinal Faulhaber attacked the Jew-baiter, Herr Streicher, saying that it was sacrilege to declare that when one served a nation, one thereby fulfilled one's duty to God.—Reuter.

ANTI-RED PACT CELEBRATED

Tokyo, Nov. 7.

Three weeks of national celebration began in Japan yesterday to mark the first anniversary of the conclusion of the anti-Comintern pact between Japan, Germany and Italy.

Prince Chichibu, Prince Konoye, and members of the Cabinet attended a gala reception at the Italian Embassy last night, at which the German Ambassador and the Envoy of Nationalist Spain were also present.

Mammoth parades were held in Tokyo in the afternoon, the participants demonstrating before the Imperial Palace and the German and Italian Embassies.—Reuter.

SMUTS FAVOURS REFORMED LEAGUE

Position Of Extreme Danger

Johannesburg, Nov. 7.

"Back to a reformed League must be our policy," declared General Smuts, South African Minister of Justice, in an Armistice anniversary broadcast yesterday.

General Smuts said that the alliance system had once more broken down, and he urged that efforts should be made to bring the great Powers back to the League. The position was one of extreme danger and urgency.

The Hitler-Chamberlain conversations showed that Herr Hitler had been determined in his furtherance of national policy through war unless Czechoslovakia had given way. Calamity was averted through Mr. Chamberlain's last-minute intervention, but in recent years the nations had developed the habit of lawless actions which cannot continue without calamity.

The only escape is international order, he said. The League Council in the past has been too unwieldy and the League has been weakened by desertions.

General Smuts urged a standing committee of the great Powers as a permanent part of the League machinery.—Reuter.

JAPAN LACKS MAN-POWER

Shanghai, Nov. 7.

Japan's lack of man-power is manifested by the suspension of many industrial enterprises. The latest indication is the absence of firemen, most of whom have been called to the colours.

Admiral Nobumasa Suetsugu, Minister of Home Affairs, will merge the police with the fire brigade by the middle of this month. This means that firemen will have to be on patrol duty and policemen will be required to extinguish fires and, to save inmates from burning buildings.—International News.

Advance Winter Notes Seen At Valley

(By Rosette)

Autumn fashions, with here and there a suggestion of the real winter, predominated amongst the styles displayed by Chinese ladies at the Valley Races on Saturday. Hardly one real summer frock was seen. Old rose was the most noticeable colour, others favoured being black, green, rust and grey.

One of the earliest arrivals, and therefore one of the first that I spotted, was Miss Beatrice Law. Her black velvet frock had old rose flower designs. With an old rose short jacket and suede shoes of the same colour to match, she made a charming picture of correct taste.

Miss Katherine Mak was similarly dressed, except that her material was Chinese silk, with old rose round-dragon designs. Another old rose devotee was Miss Ray Lau, who chose a dress with Egyptian design and trimmings. Miss May Ung, heroine of "Romance of the Western Chamber," who was with Miss Nancy Leung, was in a beautiful printed gown, with a short jacket of brown and shoes and purse to match. Her companion sported pale turquoise blue with an old rose coat.

BROWN GEORGETTE

Miss Minnie Wong's brown georgette, with rust colour velvet

flowers, was most striking; and another example of rust that leapt to the eye was Miss Phyllis Grose's frock.

Miss Jenny Wong, charming and vivacious Hongkong University B.A., showed an individualistic selection that attracted much attention. Hers was a lovely gown of coral, with a white short coat and neat little accessories. Mrs. T'so Tsun-on, who was with her, was in blue printed silk.

Her beautiful long gown of the new colour combination of dark purple and brown, with delightful busy designs all over, literally suited Mrs. Mary Liang down to the ground.

Mrs. Josephine Chu, pretty young wife of the popular novice jockey, was in a dark green flannel dress with coat and shoes to match. Mr. and Mrs. Li Ying-sang, from Shanghai, were seen in the stand. Mrs. Li looked very charming in her green gown.

BLUE VELVET

Mrs. S. N. Chau had a lovely unbordered jersey over her plain gown. Her companion was Mrs. Chu, popular member of Shanghai society, who was in a striking blue velvet creation with a black short coat.

Mrs. Violet Chan, whose portrayal of Madame Tsui in "Romance of the Western Chamber" won great admiration, chose an "off-stage" ensemble of black, with yellow blouse and shoes, and wore a hat with a veil.

Other combinations included red and grey—extraordinarily smart short red jackets over plain long grey dresses lent indeed a tantalizing effect to the wearers; black and white—here we have the two extremes of colours coupled together, resulting in the bringing out of stately feminine charm. These were mainly worn by Northern visitors.

Heroic Girl Guide Of China

Miss Yang Hui-ming, China's most famous Girl Guide, is now in America as a delegate to the Second World Youth Congress. She was introduced to Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt on the campus of Vassar University. On one occasion she gave a radio broadcast with "Believe It or Not" Ripley.

over the National Broadcasting Company's hook-up from Radio City.

Miss Yang was the Girl Guide who volunteered to take the Chinese national flag and supplies to the "Doomed Battalion" in Shanghai. For this she was decorated with the highest award for valour of the Chinese Army.

Dressed in khaki-coloured guide uniform, dark blue skirt, and decorated with badges and souvenirs from her sister Guides and fellow Scouts, the world over, Miss Yang is the most popular figure to tour the Chinese overseas communities in the New World.

China's Girl Guide has met all the attention and honour showered upon her with unassuming naïveté. She is now en route for Boston, Chicago, Los Angeles and San Francisco. Then, as she simply says, "When our work is over in America as Chinese Youth Delegates, I shall go right back home to service on the war front."

SUPPORT FOR CHINA

Woman's Appeal To British

Speaking at a meeting at Bolton recently, Miss L. Tou expressed appreciation for the opportunity to enlist British sympathy and support for the defence of China against the Japanese invasion.

She stressed that the Chinese are a peace-loving people, but that this also applies to the majority of the Japanese, who are, however, dominated by militaristic rulers.

Miss Tou held that it was vital to British interests for China to win this war as, if a warlike fascist type nation controls the East, there can be no peace in Europe.

Miss Tou pointed out that by purchasing Japanese manufactured commodities we are providing the money which is making explosives etc. and enabling them to bring death and destruction to the people of China. One quarter of Japan's exports come to Great Britain, and one quarter to America. She then proceeded to detail commodities largely sold in Britain of Japanese manufacture, and appealed for all to refuse these goods.

WALT DISNEY SUED

Walt Disney's phenomenally successful cartoon "Snow White and the Seven Dwarfs" last week ended its London West End run of eight months. Simultaneously came news from New York that the film's two leading "voices" were suing Disney.

"Snow White's" piping voice, Adriana Caselotti, claimed $60,000 for alleged breach of contract; Harry Stockwell, romantic hero-Prince's voice, sued for $40,000.

Proud of his pioneer feature, Disney acquired the rights to make a full-length colour cartoon of Burle's whimsy play "Peter Pan." Later he may produce a version of Spain's classical "Don Quixote."

The Governors of the Board of the American Guild of Musical Artists have decided that Yehudi Menuhin, former boy violin prodigy, would not be allowed to appear with the Los Angeles symphony orchestra on November 3 unless he joins the union.

The American Red Cross headquarters, says a report to the "Wen Hui Pao," are sending about 1,800 tons of ground wheat to Shanghai for the refugee camps. The shipments, which are sufficient for about six months, are expected on or about November 18.

"Spotlight," Carroll Lund's latest magazine has made its bow to the Shanghai public. A photo news magazine of the type that is now popular in Great Britain and America, it aims to cover the principal events in China and Asia generally by means of photo-journalism. The first issue covers a number of interesting and topical subjects.

Round About

The pandas and various animals visiting in the Colony en route to their new home in the London Zoo are proving a great attraction and curiosity to young and old.

Each day many people go to their quarters to see and watch these curious beasts from the north of China. The small, sleepy, lazy, ten month old female panda is ahead and oiled over, and many people can hardly resist the temptation of bestowing a pat or two to this woolly imp.

Quietly she lounges about at the end of her chain. Rolling over now and then to assume a sassy or ridiculous pose, such as big paws over eyes, or all four feet straight in the air and her small eyes rolling about in a once-over of her visitors.

On such an occasion a young interested lady standing nearby could not resist a playful tap or two. The panda entering the spirit of the moment counters with a feeble slap of her paw to the ladies' stockings. A good pair of hose gone! And to be winner of the game, young panda takes a nibble of said lady's shank.

In haste the lady beat her retreat, the panda won the round, and bestowed the distinction upon the visitor of being the first person to be bitten by the younger panda.

ARMISTICE NIGHT AT THE GRIPPS

Time marches on, and a new generation has grown up since that first longed-for Armistice night was celebrated twenty years ago.

Somehow or other, for young and old, November 11 continues to stand out as one of the most important days in the year, and although there are many of the older generation who may not feel like being gay because of personal associations, there is this new generation with no sad memories, but only the idea that Armistice Day stands for peace and happiness regained.

And so November 11 will see a very special Cabaret Dinner Dance at The Grippe in aid of that popular local charitable organization, The Hongkong Benevolent Society. In response to the popular suggestion part of the proceeds will be given to "Earl Haig's Fund."

THE WEATHER

Winter showed a distinct sign of setting in yesterday, when the temperature in the early morning just touched 70 degrees. The maximum during the day was 78, and the forecast for today indicates still cooler weather. The first drop of rain for three weeks fell on Sunday, but it was only .18 inch. The total rainfall for the year now stands at just under 55 inches, compared with an average of 82.71 inches.

Over 40 gold bars, worth about $100,000. National currency were found last week in the possession of a passenger aboard a French steamer sailing for Hongkong. The valuables are now in the custody of the Shanghai Maritime Customs in accordance with stipulations.

CORRESPONDENCE

ANT EXTERMINATION

(To the Editor, "The Hongkong Daily Press")

Sir—I shall be grateful if you or your readers will let me know how to exterminate ants. My house is infested with them and as I may, I have not been able to get rid of them.

BITTEN

Hongkong, Nov. 7.

(To the Editor, "The Hongkong Daily Press")

Sir—I have a letter from a doctor who was working in the Wuhan area. She writes, "I would hate to be a Chinese and not able to run away." Again—"Bad as it was during the Japanese bombardment when I was in the operation theatre from morning till night it was far worse after the Japanese occupation when I had more than 1,500 women under my care, suffering from the ravages of bestial Japanese soldiers." This lady asked me not to communicate with the press at that time, or the Japanese would cut off the water supply from the compound, so the patients and Chinese refugees would be the sufferers.

An article "We Were in Nanking" was written by foreign missionary doctors who were present at the sack of Nanking. If this was published far and wide, including Japan, the present hostilities would end very quickly, utterly appalled and horrified would every decent Japanese be at the most fiendish act of barbarism the world has ever known.

Viscount Finlay is sixty-three and was the judge who sentenced the mutineers of Dartmoor Prison. Educated at Eton and Cambridge he became a barrister in 1901 and a King's Counsel in 1914. Sir Arthur Luxmoore is sixty-two and was educated at King's School (Canterbury) and Cambridge. He was a member of the Cambridge Rugby team in 1896-7 and a member of the England Rugby XV 1900-1. Became King's Counsel in 1919. Sir Raynor Goddard is sixty-one. He was created a knight in 1932, became King's Counsel 1923. Educated at Marlborough and Oxford.

PORTUGUESE BABY LAID TO REST

The funeral of Lionel Remedios, three-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Hector C. Remedios, who died on Sunday, took place at the Roman Catholic Cemetery, Happy Valley, yesterday. The Rev. Fr. L. M. Rossi officiated at the graveside. A large gathering of relatives and friends attended. Floral tributes were sent by the following—Mummy and Daddy, Blanche, Betty, Marie, Theresa, Stella and Celes, Alda and Hugo, Rogre, Sonny and Tony, Auntie Cita, Auntie Helenita, Auntie Maria and Olga, Auntie Cima, Auntie Yolly and Cece Louz, Chey and Mrs. J. M. Alves, Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Xavier, Mr. and Mrs. F. N. Cunha, Mr. and Mrs. T. Thoresen, Mrs. C. M. P. e Soares and family.

them how they have in the past been misled by white missionaries whose one aim is the exploitation of China and the enslavement of the Chinese people. Already they have begun to spread their propaganda against the foreign missionaries in China, of how they are sent out from the home-lands to convert the Chinese; how they treat the Chinese as dogs and nothing else; and how, instead of serving others, they expect others, including a host of servants, who are paid very low wages, to serve them.

What kind of Christianity these people intend to teach the Chinese is not known but, if it is the kind of religion inspired by the Japanese militarists and considers their Emperor supreme to everything else, then it would perhaps be advisable to keep it in Japan rather than spread it to China because the Chinese people want nothing to do with it.

MEANWHILE, IT WOULD BE INTERESTING to see what kind of a response the Japanese pastors make but, would this not be expecting too much as it is hardly likely that Tokyo, with the severe censorship which is clamped down on everything, that is disapproved of, will allow anything of this nature to be made public?

TRAFFICKING IN GIRLS

Two Women Sent To Prison

The hearing of the case against two women, Chu-Po-chu and Chau Lo-sam, charged with trafficking in women and girls, harbouring them and exercising control over prostitution, was concluded before Mr. H. R. Butters at the Central Court yesterday, when sentence of three months' imprisonment was passed on each of the accused.

Mr. J. B. Prentis, Assistant Crown Solicitor, prosecuted assisted by Det.-Insp. J. O'Donovan and Miss P. Harrop, of the S.C.A.

Mr. J. M. D'Almada, Remedios appeared for the defence.

Chau Po-chu, who had given evidence at the previous hearing, was cross-examined by Mr. Prentis yesterday.

She told the Court that she looked after two of the girls when they were in Swatow and also in Hongkong when they arrived here.

She also stated that the evidence about them being forced to become prostitutes was untrue because they wanted freedom.

Mr. Prentis: Freedom from what?—Because they wanted to be free from us.

Finding the two defendants guilty of the remaining charges, Mr. Butters said it must be remembered that the Court was not a Court of morals.

He was satisfied that the girls had been purchased for the exploitation of prostitution and were registered in Swatow.

Their coming down to Hongkong from Swatow was not only running away from trouble but also to continue to exploit prostitution.

The girls, he said, did not know the Hongkong streets well enough to become guides in an escort bureau, having come from other parts of China.

Taking into consideration the fact that the two defendants had already been in custody for nearly two months during the hearing of the case and in view of what had been revealed during the hearing, Mr. Butters imposed a sentence of three months' hard labour on each accused, without the option of a fine.

BRINGING MUTSAI INTO COLONY

Appearing before Mr. R. Edwards at the Central Court yesterday charged with bringing an unregistered mutsai into the Colony, Kwok On-Pong, 26, a married woman, was bound over in a sum of $50 for one year.

Inspector H. W. Fraser, of the S. C. A., who was in charge of the case, said that defendant came to his office on Saturday and asked that her mutsai be registered. The girl, Kwok Mui, aged 18, was well treated and had expressed her wish to remain with the defendant.

STOLE HANDBAG

A remand of 24 hours was granted on the application of the police when Chan Kau, 26, unemployed, appeared before Mr. J. Houston at the Central Court yesterday charged with larceny from the person of a handbag containing $4.17 and other articles on Saturday.

Miss Grimaldo Orozco, of No. 31 Morrison Hill Road, was the victim.

BAZAAR'S GOOD RESULT

$15,000 Raised On Sunday

The Bazaar Committee of the Society of St. Vincent de Paul desires to convey its grateful thanks to the public and the following benefactors for the support given to the "Al Fresco Fete" held on Sunday, which made it possible to realize the sum of about $15,000.

His Excellency the Governor and Lady Northcote for opening the Bazaar and giving it their distinguished patronage; the Hongkong & Shanghai Hotel, Limited, for the loan of the ground of the Fete; the China Light & Power Company for the facilities for broadcasting Radio Service for the Peninsula Hotel for music; the Peninsula Hotel for special services; Mr. M. A. Xavier for drawing up the plan of the Fete; the Hongkong Telephone Company for installing a telephone; the Hongkong Tramways, the Kowloon Motor Bus Company, the China Bus Company, the Star Ferry, the Yau Ma Tei Ferry, the hotels, and Peak Tram-ways for displaying posters; Reverend Father R. W. Gallagher and Father L. Fung for broadcasting; Z.B.W. for broadcasting facilities; the Police and Fire Brigade for excellent protection arrangements; the Press for publicity; the many generous contributors to the general fund of the Fete; the various firms, stores and individuals for gifts; the various stallholders for splendid co-operation; the Aberdeen Industrial School for the band; and finally all those who in any way contributed to the magnificent success of the bazaar whose names might inadvertently have been omitted herein.

While the Bazaar is one of the means for obtaining funds, the Society also relies to a large extent on the "Rose Day" which will be held on Thursday, December 1, and is optimistic enough to hope that the charitably disposed Hongkong public will respond nobly to this worthy cause.

STAFF DUTY IN CHINA

CAPT. RUSHBROOKE'S SUCCESSOR

Captain E. G. N. Rushbrooke, D.S.O., Captain on the Staff of the Commander-in-Chief, China, during the past two years, is to be relieved by Captain F. J. Wylie, who has joined the Admiralty for preliminary duty before coming to the Far East.

Captain Wylie was promoted last June when in command of the destroyer Blanche in the Home Fleet. He is a specialist in signals, and has had three periods of duty in the experimental department at the Signal School, Portsmouth. He has also served in China in command of the destroyers Wild Swan and Delight. In 1929-31 he was fleet wireless officer in the Mediterranean. He served at sea all through the War from midshipman to Lieutenant, in the cruiser Defence and the destroyers Porpoise and Lysander.

LT.-GEN. SIR OSWALD BORRETT

Lieutenant-General Sir Oswald Borrett, K.C.B., C.M.G., C.B.E., D.S.O., who was placed on the retired list on October 26, has over 40 years' service.

Born in 1878, he went to Wellington College and Sandhurst, joined the King's Own in 1898, became O.C. 2nd Battalion, in 1919, and Colonel of the regiment seven years later. His active service has been in South Africa, France and Belgium; and on the North-West Frontier; and he did emergency work in Shanghai. His brigade commands were the 19th, 54th, and 55th in France; Waziristan Brigade, Wana Column, 7th Indian, and China Command. As a major-general he has commanded the North Midland Division and the British Troops in China. In 1936 he was appointed Lieutenant of the Tower.

STOLE FIRE HOSE

Sentence of three months' hard labour was imposed on Li Tong, 47, unemployed, when he appeared before Mr. R. Edwards at the Central Court yesterday charged with the theft of a fire hose from Chung Tin Building on Saturday. A district watchman met him carrying the hose in the street.

CENOTAPH CEREMONY ON ARMISTICE DAY

Official Arrangements For Observances

Arrangements in connection with the Armistice Day observances at the Cenotaph, announced yesterday, remain the same as in former years. His Excellency the Governor will arrive at the Cenotaph at 10.55 a.m. after all representative detachments are in position.

Following His Excellency's arrival, the Pipes of the 2nd Battalion, The Royal Scots, will play lament, and at 11 a.m. one gun fired by one of His Majesty's ships in harbour will denote the commencement of the Two Minutes' Silence.

The termination of the Silence, will be marked by the firing of another gun, when the Drummers of the Middlesex Regiment will sound "The Last Post." Following this, the Massed Bands will play the hymn, "O God Our Help in Ages Past," and prayer and the Blessing will be said by the Clergy.

After the Drummers of the Middlesex Regiment have sounded "The Rouse," the Massed Bands will play "God Save the King." His Excellency will then place a wreath at the bottom of the Cenotaph, followed by His Excellency the Naval Commander-in-Chief, His Excellency the General Officer Commanding and the Air Force.

Wreaths will then be laid, in order, by the foreign Consuls in the Colony, representatives of the Merchant Navy, representatives of the Chinese community and representatives of foreign armies and navies.

His Excellency the Governor and officials will then depart, and individual wreaths may be placed at the Cenotaph after the various detachments have marched off.

RESERVED ACCOMMODATION

In connection with the Cenotaph ceremony, special accommodation for 300 persons is being reserved to the north of the Law Courts. Application for tickets should be made to the Deputy Assistant Adjutant General, China Command, before to-morrow.

The form of ceremony at the Chinese Memorial Arch, Botanic Gardens, which will immediately follow the Cenotaph ceremony, is as follows:—

CHINESE MEMORIAL

His Excellency the Governor and Commander-in-Chief together with his Staff, followed by the Naval Commander-in-Chief, the General Officer Commanding, the Officer Commanding the Royal Air Force, the Far East, and members of the Executive and Legislative Councils will be met at the foot of the Memorial Arch.

The steps leading up to the Memorial Arch will be lined by the Chinese Company of the Hongkong Police Reserve; a detachment of District Watchmen will parade under Inspector Post, and also a representative party of the Boy Scouts.

POLICE MEDALS PRESENTED IN SHANGHAI

Bravery And Long Service Awards

Distinguished conduct medals and long service medals were formally presented to about 180 members of the Shanghai Municipal Police, Gao Staff, and S.M.P. Specials by Mr. Cornhill S. Franklin, Chairman of the Municipal Council, at the Inspection and Presentation held last week at the Race Course Ground.

A reception for diplomatic, consular, military, naval and other officials followed the ceremony. There has been no formal presentation of Police medals and no general inspection during the last few years, hence the list of recipients includes persons who earned their decoration as far back as 1935.

One of those honoured was a woman, Miss A. D. Harlamoff, who received the Distinguished Conduct Medal, Class II, in recognition of her outstanding services as a wardress in the Ward Road Gao Staff during the early part of the hostilities last year. Three posthumous awards of D.C.M.'s on the list, included one to the late Probationary Sergeant E. M. Slater, who was killed by robbers in a house in Peking Road on December 31, 1935.

LIST OF D.C.M. AWARDS

The D.C.M. Class I, was awarded to Chinese Detective Constable 60 Chin Van-yung. The same medal, Class II, was presented to the following: C.P.C. 1341, Yen Yung-cheng; Insp. B. B. Everstone, Insp. S. V. Gash, Bert. D. Johnstone (absent), Det.-Sergt. J. W. M. Dickson, C.D.S. 192, Sung Wen-hsi; C.D.C. 254, Chang Kwai-tung; Japanese Constables 220, I. Mawatari; 222, Y. 498, Santa Singh.

EMPIRE CONFERENCE "NOT SUCCESS"

After presiding at the British Commonwealth Relations Conference held at Sydney convened by the Royal Institute of International Relations, fifty-nine-year-old, genial Lord Lothian arrived at the Civil Airport recently looking happy when he stepped from a Qantas plane in Singapore, stated that he did not think the conference much of a success. Mrs. Nunn, wife of Major R. L. Nunn, Director of Aviation, Malaya, met the Marquess. The Marquess said that he was generally satisfied with the conference although it did not prove much of a success. The French Canadians held an adverse attitude.

ROBBERY OF WOLFRAM

Appearing before Mr. J. Houston at the Central Court yesterday on a charge of robbery by two or more, Ho Chi-king, 32, an unemployed theatre attendant, was remanded for three days on the application of Sub-Inspector Darkin. He was alleged to have taken together with five others not in custody, 20 bags of wolfram ore valued at $500, three baskets of eggs valued at $85 and three bags of duck feathers worth $70, from a house in Nam Hon-fong, Shaokui-wan.

PEOPLE'S POLITICAL COUNCIL SESSION AT CHUNGKING CONCLUDED

Glowing Tribute Paid To Leadership Of Generalissimo

Chungking, November 7.

After a ten-day meeting, the second plenary session of the People's Political Council was formally adjourned yesterday afternoon. A spirit of harmony and co-operation permeated throughout the session, at which a large number of resolutions of great import were discussed.

As Mr. Wang Ching-wei, Chairman of the Council, wound up the session with an eloquent address pledging unwavering determination to fight on for China's independence and world peace and justice, he was vociferously cheered.

Mr. Wang in his address paid a glowing tribute to the leadership of Generalissimo Chiang Kai-shek and expressed the thanks and gratitude of the entire Council to the soldiers at the front.

The various friendly Powers, which had rendered help and assistance to China during her hours of trial, were also mentioned by Mr. Wang. He hoped that these

NAVY MAN'S BRAVE DEED RECOGNISED

Gift Presented By
S.M. Police

The Commissioner of the Shanghai Municipal Police, Major K. M. Bourne, made a presentation of a silver tea-service last week to Mr. F. J. Anderson, attached to the British Naval Office in Shanghai, in recognition of his gallantry and public spirit in apprehending an armed assassin in Avenue Road near Ferry Road, on last July 25.

The presentation took place at S.M.P. Headquarters, Poochow Road, where Major Bourne, in a short speech, thanked Mr. Anderson for his service to the community.

About 8.30 a.m. on July 25, whilst walking on Avenue Road near the corner of Ferry Road, Mr. Anderson heard the sound of two pistol shots, and turning his head was in time to notice a Chinese with a pistol in his hand turning east from Ferry Road into Avenue Road. Mr. Anderson immediately gave chase and though unarmed, followed the armed man.

Det-Serg. J. Y. Hillhouse, who was walking south on Ferry Road, turned round on hearing the shots and also saw the armed Chinese turning into Avenue Road. He gave chase, following Mr. Anderson, who was by then between the gunman and himself.

In this order they reached the corner of Seymour Road where the gunman fired a shot at C.P.C. 145 (traffic duty) without effect, to which the Chinese policeman replied with one shot.

GRAPPLES WITH GUNMAN

At this point Mr. Anderson jumped upon the back of the gunman, pinning both arms above the elbow, and struggled with him. The gunman managed to fire a shot over his left shoulder during the struggle. Det-Serg. Hillhouse, realizing the seriousness of the situation and seeing an opportunity, thereupon shot the criminal.

The Award Board was unanimously of opinion that the very gallant action of Mr. Anderson in pursuing and grappling with an armed criminal would, if he were a police officer, be deserving of the award of a Police D.C.M., Class II.

The board recorded the excellent manner in which Serg. Hillhouse stuck to the chase under difficult circumstances (Mr. Anderson was all the time between him and the armed man) and waited his opportunity to fire without endangering the life of Mr. Anderson.

His conduct is deserving of the highest praise. C.P.C. 145's actions were also correct and commendable, and worthy of recognition, the Board found.—North China Daily News.

TRAWLER LOST IN STORM

Copenhagen, Nov. 7.

It is announced from Reykjavik that it is feared that the fishing trawler, "Olafur," from which no news has been received since a wireless message was sent on November 2, has sunk in a violent storm that raged during the following days. The trawler had a crew of 21. A search for the missing vessel has hitherto been in vain.—Transocean.

Powers would continue their assistance in a common struggle for world peace.

Mr. Chang I-lin, the oldest member of the Council, also delivered a short address. He stressed the importance of unity and coherence among the entire people, whose one important slogan at the present time should be "China Over All."

SIMPLE CEREMONY

The closing ceremony, simple and impressive, was attended by more than 100 members of the Council, as well as a large number of high Government officials, including Dr. H. H. Kung, Mr. Yu Yu-jen, Mr. Chu Cheng and Mr. Yeh Chu-tsang.

Earlier in the morning, a large number of resolutions were passed at a full session and referred to the Government for reference or execution.

To attend to various affairs of the Council when it is not in full session, a standing committee of 25, headed by Mr. Chow Ping-lin and Mr. Kung Keng, was elected. The members of the committee will remain in Chungking.—Central News.

FAMOUS HOUSE TO BE RESTORED

The historical Sandford Manor House, Fulham, S.W., whose tenants have included Nell Gwynn and Addison, is undergoing restoration.

The gables, which were formerly a feature of the house in the 17th century, have long since disappeared, and the exterior has been modernised. Inside, however, the old oak staircase up which King Charles II. rode his horse for a wager with Nell Gwynn still stands.

The maintenance department of the Gas Light and Coke Company, which owns the house, is now removing the many layers of paint which have been applied to it through the years.

The original panelling in the hall is well preserved. Iron frames are being put into the windows, as they were in King Charles' time. The exterior of the house is also being restored to resemble its original aspect.

During the '90s of the last century a plaster medallion of Nell Gwynn was found in the garden. In 1708 Addison wrote to his stepson, Lord Warwick, from Sandford Manor House, describing the profusion of wild birds whose singing enlivened the wooded surroundings.

ZOO COLLECTOR'S RETIREMENT

Supplied 300 Animals

Visitors frequently wonder how the London Zoo acquires its exhibits. Actually the menagerie has many sources of supply. Some animals are presented and some are received in exchange from other zoos.

Others are purchased from dealers or acquired through collectors. Many of the exhibits are obtained from amateur collectors. Englishmen living abroad often make it a hobby to send birds and animals to the Zoo.

Owing to the retirement of Mr. C. G. Upstone, an official of a trading company on the Gold Coast, the Zoo has lost a regular contributor. During the last 17 years Mr. Upstone has supplied nearly 300 animals.

In common with most amateur collectors, he relied on natives to bring him specimens and his consignments usually consisted of a varied assortment of mammals, birds, reptiles, and insects. His final contribution was received some days ago. It included antelopes and a number of small birds.

TRIBUTE TO PRIME MINISTER

Montreux, Nov. 7.

An address of grateful homage to Mr. Neville Chamberlain from the citizens of Geneva for having saved the peace of Europe, has been handed to the British Minister at Bern, to be passed on to the Prime Minister.

The address, embossed in the coat of arms of Geneva, is written in both English and French, and signed by thousands of people of all religions, conditions and age.—Reuter.

America's Verdict On New Deal Of Roosevelt: 40,000,000 Going To Polls

New York, November 7.

Some 40,000,000 voters will go to the polls to-morrow to give America's verdict on the New Deal of President Roosevelt.

The entire membership of the House of Representatives, one third of the Senate, and the Governors and members of local legislatures in 33 out of 48 States are to be elected.

SITUATION ON EBRO FRONT

Salamanca, Nov. 7.

A communique issued by the Nationalist Headquarters last night states that Nationalist troops continued the offensive on the Ebro front yesterday. They encircled and stormed the village of Benisamet. The Ebro bridge there was set on fire by the retreating enemy.—Transocean.

AIR FORCE ACTIVE

Barcelona, Nov. 7.

The Republican War Ministry in a bulletin issued last night, states that heavy fighting on the Ebro front continued yesterday in the sector of Benisamet where the enemy attacked with tanks and motorised units, supported by artillery and the air force, and succeeded in advancing on a small part of the front. Fighting is still in progress. The enemy suffered heavy losses.

The Republican air force was very active. One enemy plane was shot down near Cartagena by Republican anti-aircraft fire and crashed into the sea.

Nationalist planes attacked Almeria, Cartagena, Barcelona, Tarragona and other towns on the

Mr. Churchill Replies To Hitler's Criticism

"Let This Great Man Search His Own Conscience"

London, November 7.

IN A STATEMENT ISSUED LAST NIGHT Mr. Winston Churchill replied to the criticism of him by Herr Hitler in his speech at Weimar. In the course of it Mr. Churchill said, "Hitler is quite mistaken in supposing that Mr. Eden, Mr. Duff Cooper, myself and leaders of the Liberal and Labour parties are warmongers. Not one of us has ever dreamed of an act of aggression against Germany. We are, however, concerned to make sure that our own country is properly defended so that we can be safe and free and also help others to whom we are bound."

"Hitler ought to understand this mood and respect it. I have always said that if Britain were defeated in war I hoped we should find a Hitler to lead us back to our rightful position among the nations. I am sorry, however, that he had not been mellowed by the great success that has attended him."

"The whole world would rejoice to see the Hitler of peace and tolerance and nothing would adorn his name in world history so much as the acts of magnanimity and of mercy and of pity to the forlorn and friendless, to the weak and poor."

In a later message, Mr. Churchill says, "Let this great man search his own heart and conscience before he accuses anyone of being a warmonger. The whole peoples of the British Empire and the French Republic earnestly desire to dwell in peace side by side with the German nation."—British Wireless.

CAROL ANXIOUS FOR SETTLEMENT

Budapest, Nov. 7.

King Carol is particularly anxious to settle the uncertain political situation in Rumania before he visits England on November 15, according to persistent reports. Otherwise, he will not be able to come to grips with politics before December 1.

Many quarters are urging the formation of a Government National Union, which, it is thought, would be specially useful when the various minorities are demanding greater freedom.

A cry for special treatment was voiced recently by the German "Saxons" of Transylvania.—Reuter.

MAN FLUNG FROM HAIG STATUE

Fined For Part In Whitehall Scenes

Violent scenes in Whitehall were described at Bow-street recently when Arthur Adrian Armand Aaron, 20, stockbroker's clerk, of Malda Vale, who said he had been educated at Clifton College, was fined £5, with 5s costs, for using insulting words and behaviour.

A charge of assaulting a policeman was dismissed.

Serg. J. Adamson said that there was a crowd of several thousand in Whitehall. He saw Aaron with his right fist raised, shouting "Chamberlain, must go." Those people in the crowd who had not joined in the demonstration appeared to be terrified.

Aaron and several others crowded round a mounted police officer whom Aaron attempted to pull from his horse.

The sergeant attempted to arrest Aaron, who struck him in the mouth with his fist. They both fell to the ground and the sergeant injured his wrist.

BLOW ON HEAD

The crowd became very hostile, continued Serg. Adamson, and closed in on him. He was struck on the head while lying on the ground and would be on the sick list for some time.

A mounted police officer said that he galloped up Whitehall chasing Aaron, who ran in and out of the crowd towards Trafalgar-square.

In evidence Aaron said that when he walked to Downing-street, he was not in a demonstration. He shouted, "Stand by the Czechs."

A police horse trod on his foot, continued Aaron, and, as the animal swung round, its bridle caught his face. As the crowd were moved back by the mounted police he got on to the plinth of the Haig statue.

He was "flung from the statue" by Serg. Adamson and found himself on the ground. Horses were around him, and he put up his hands to protect his face. It was possible that while doing so he struck someone, but he did not think he did.

LOST HIS GLASSES

Aaron said he lost his glasses, and being rather short-sighted, was "absolutely befuddled." He ran away to get out of the crowd, and was stopped by a woman, who shouted, "Here he is."

Aaron denied struggling with a mounted policeman.

Mrs. Mary Patterson, of First-avenue, Queen's Park, a member of Paddington Borough Council, said that before Aaron had time to get off the plinth the sergeant caught him by the collar and "chucked him" in the roadway.

The magistrate, Mr. McKenna, remarked that Aaron's behaviour had been highly indiscreet and dangerous.

Ellerman Heir Doubles Father's £18,000,000

When Sir John Ellerman, £37,000,000 shipping magnate, died five years ago, death duties left his son with the family fortune reduced to £18,000,000. After five years, the new Sir John Ellerman, now twenty-eight, is estimated to be worth more than his father ever was.

Recently the accounts of Ellerman Lines, Ltd., were published. The company control 140 ships trading to every country in the world.

Their profit last year was £1,177,906. That is 61 per cent. more than in 1936; and the 1936 profit was 23 per cent. more than in 1935.

So, for the first time since his father died, Sir John has decided to pay himself a dividend on the Deferred Ordinary capital, a modest ten per cent. The rest of the profits go back into the business.

£100 BECOMES £127

This will help to explain how Sir John has regained the millions that went to the State.—

One hundred pounds in a business earning 5 per cent. becomes more than £127 if you leave the profits alone for five years. A million pounds, similarly invested becomes approximately £1,276,000.

But the earnings on most of Sir John's capital in the past year have been equal to 50 per cent. His companies have an investment income of £5,545,910.

A shipping expert said: "There is always money to be made in shipping somewhere."

"If one of his companies loses a bit another makes it up."

The Chinese press reports that the Kwangchowwan authorities have issued a proclamation prohibiting the transportation of motor-cars and spare parts to the interior of China. Because of this, many motor-cars imported to Hongkong are still stored up in godowns awaiting transportation.

H.K.F.A. COUNCIL

ASSISTANCE FOR SOCCER PLAYER'S DEPENDENTS

Big Charity Match To Be Arranged

DISCUSSION ON INTERPORT

AT A MEETING OF THE COUNCIL OF THE Hongkong Football Association yesterday, a letter was read from the secretary of the Kit Chee Football Association with reference to the accidental injury of one of the players in a recent football match, with the result that he died the following day in the Queen Mary Hospital. The deceased player's mother and sister were entirely dependent upon him and as a result of his death, they were without means of subsistence.

The letter went on to inquire of the Chairman if it were possible to arrange for a charity game, the funds to be appropriated for the benefit of the deceased's mother and sister.

The Chairman (Mr. W. Pryde) remarked after reading the letter, that it was up to the Council to do all it could to help deceased's dependents. After some discussion the Chairman said that it should be left to the Management Committee to arrange for a good match to be played at an early date, the proceeds to be donated to the deceased's mother. It was also proposed that $200 should be immediately given to her from the proceeds of the "Sunday Herald" Charity Cup games. The motion was carried unanimously.

INTERPORT MATCH

With regard to the Interport game with Shanghai to be held on Chinese New Year's Day, the Chairman said that the evening papers carried reports that Shanghai was unable to send a team to Hongkong. As far as the Council was concerned, said the Chairman, no official information had been received. If the reports were true then a team from Manila should be invited. Another report in the local press, said the Chairman, was that Shanghai had invited the Hongkong team to go North.

After consultation, it was proposed that pending a reply from Shanghai, the Management Committee be given power to go into the matter of sending a team to Shanghai (the approximate cost of which would be about $5000) after consulting the treasurer of the Council and receiving his advice in the matter.

It is understood that Lee Walton will be playing in the Charity match on Armistice Day.

MISS HOAHING WIN AGAIN

Wood floor courts are the speedways of lawn tennis. Seemingly then they are scarcely adapted to the five feet of still rather frail physique of Miss Gem Hoahing, the Chinese girl with a genius for the game. Yet in her first indoor tournament—the Covered Courts Championships at Queen's Club—she has won at 17 her first two matches and is in the round of the last eight.

Miss Hoahing beat by 6-2, 6-3, Miss P. N. Morrison, a head taller than herself, who plays in the Surrey County side and is a worthy opponent for most players. Astute adversaries of Miss Hoahing have discovered that the best way to defeat her is to make her short limbs stretch by means of a sharply angled ball. Persistence in such tactics may give her more running and hitting than she is able to manage.

Miss Morrison was rather too stereotyped in her full-length drives to keep Miss Hoahing on the run. And at the straight up and down stuff the Chinese girl was more than her match. The power of some of her backhand drives was incredible for so small a morsel of humanity, they showed what timing can do in the hitting of a ball. From 1-6 down in the second set, Miss Morrison tried some volleying and won a couple of games, but by that time her cause was hopeless.

Mrs. R. D. McKelvie showed the pertinacity we used to expect of her as Miss McOstrich in beating her frequent opponent Miss Gladys Southwell in two sets. Mrs. Hayward, who plays at Queen's and in the South of France, was so steady as to make Miss Betty Batt beat herself in three sets.

Mrs. J. B. Pittman, who is "seeded" defeated Miss B. M. Smith.

SHELAEFF'S FIRST FIGHT

Until further details are available through the mails about the first fight in San Francisco of Andre Shelaeff, whom Shanghai has taken under its wing as welterweight champion of the Orient, there must be considerable mystification over the result.

On the reports so far received the draw verdict is difficult to explain. In the fifth round Shelaeff appears to have accidentally butted his opponent and caused a deep gash on his forehead. This apparently inspired the referee to stop the fight and to award a draw, even though the American boxer was ahead on points.

What boxing followers are asking themselves is how was this verdict arrived at? If Shelaeff, admittedly no better than the man was unable to continue, surely the victim of the foul was entitled to the verdict and Shelaeff should have been disqualified. A disqualification on such grounds, since the foul was admittedly accidental, could, however, have been a disaster to the Shanghai fighter. The verdict, however, should have been one way or the other. If the cable reports are to be the criterion, it seems most probable, however, that some essential particular with regard to the injury suffered by Fasano has still to be learnt, and, therefore, boxing enthusiasts will withhold judgment until more detailed accounts of the fight are available. It was Shelaeff's first fight in America, his opponent being Johnny Fasano "King of the Club".

INTERNATIONAL CHESS

Contest Opens In Amsterdam

Amsterdam, Nov. 7. The first round of the international chess tournament organised by the Dutch Broadcasting Company, in which eight of the world's leading chess masters are taking part, was played here yesterday.

Interest was centred on the game between the world champion, Alekhine, and the young Russian-born American, Resnaisky, who is considered by many to have a very good chance.

When the game was adjourned after 40 moves, Alekhine was one pawn ahead but his chances of winning were still problematical.

The day's sensation was provided by the American, Fine who defeated the Russian master, Botvinnik, in a French game in 30 moves.

Capablanca chose Slav defence against the Czechoslovak player, Flohr, who appeared to have gained a slight advantage when the game was adjourned.—Trans-ocean.

CHRIST CHURCH FETE

The fancy dress parade for children held in connection with the Christ Church fete, in the grounds of St. Andrew's Church last Saturday, was the feature of the afternoon, some of the costumes worn by the competitors being highly original.

Lady Northcote, who graced the proceedings with her presence, was one of the judges, the other two being Mesdames King and Wilson.

Lady Northcote, attended by Captain S. H. Batty-Smith, A.D.C. was met on arrival by a Committee, comprising the Rev. David Rosenthal, Priest-in-Charge of Christ Church, the Rev. J. C. L. Wong, Mrs. Rosenthal and Mr. W. Sue. A Guard of Honour was formed by the 5th Kowloon (Dio-

A farmer requested by the rural Council of Cranbrook, Kent, to improve his accommodation for hop pickers, replied that in future the hope would probably be picked by machine.

Thieves who entered the Curzon cinema in Western-road, Brighton, wrenched a 5 cwt safe from the floor of the manager's office, carried it to the circle, and blew it open; but the takings had been lodged at the bank overnight.

Finance and CommerceWORLD TRADE REVIVAL DEPENDENT ON U.S.*Anglo-American Trade Treaty Prospects

The restoration of trade prosperity throughout the world is waiting only upon that of the United States, according to the Westminster Bank, one of Britain's "big five" banking institutions. The Bank's current monthly review bases this conclusion upon detailed examination of the extent to which in the past ups and downs of trade elsewhere have followed similar fluctuations in the United States.

NORTH CHINA FLOURJapanese Exports Decline

Shanghai, Nov. 4.
Exports of Japanese flour to North China have fallen and scant hopes are entertained for a revival of the trade, at least for the time being.

Cheap foreign flour has appeared in North China and Japanese flour has decreased to about 10 per cent of the total flour imports. In September, the figure sank as low as 5 per cent. This is tantamount to suspension of imports of Japanese flour.

North China's flour imports for the three months were as follows:—
July Aug. Sept.
(1,000 sacks)
Japanese 240 210 90
Shanghai 630 780 540
Australian 790 210 1,040
American 180
Total 1,840 1,200 1,670
In Tientsin, about 3,000,000 sacks of flour are held in warehouses. This amount corresponds to a three-month supply for that district.—International News.

COTTON TRUST IN ARGENTINACHARGE TO BE INVESTIGATED

Charges in the Argentine Chamber of Deputies that a cotton trust is in existence have led to the appointment of an investigation committee.

The names of two firms were mentioned who, it is alleged, control 97 per cent of the ginning plants and 70 per cent of the cotton oil production, besides the whole of the export trade. The formation of a new Cotton Board, along the lines recommended by the Government, it was argued, would give official endorsement of the monopoly.

The Argentine National Cotton Board, in its last annual report, predicted an early shortage of labour in the plantations. This was due to the expansion of the growing areas—the provinces of Corrientes and Santiago del Estero and the Chaco.

CHINA'S NATURAL RESOURCES

The Natural Resources Committee of the Military Affairs Commission has just issued its report, from which it is interesting to note that of China's total land area of about 11 million square kilometres the National Government still controls over eight million. In this area, says the report, there are abundant natural products of every description which may be helpful in carrying on the war of resistance.

HONGKONG MINES OUTPUT

Nelson and Co., Inc., managers for the Hongkong Mines, Ltd., report 3,758 short dry tons of ore treated for the month of October; from which 621.75 dry short tons of lead concentrates were produced, averaging 71.61 per cent lead and 16.9 oz. silver per ton.

The Kweichow Provincial Government has commissioned Mr. Yu Chen-yung, the well-known veterinarian, to investigate animal husbandry in the northern parts of the province, especially in the Tungtee and Tsinly districts.

REOPENING OF YANGTZENo Agreement Yet Reached

Reports from Chinese sources to the effect that the Japanese authorities have consented to allow the ships of the Indo-China Steam Navigation Co. Ltd. and the China Navigation Co. Ltd. to navigate on the Yangtze as far as Nanking appear to be somewhat premature.

The agents here, Messrs. Jardine, Matheson and Co. Ltd. and Butterfield and Swire respectively, say that negotiations are proceeding between their representatives at Shanghai and the Japanese authorities with the view of resuming Yangtze traffic at the earliest possible date, but no information has come to their hands of an agreement having been reached on his point.

The "Ta Kung Pao," well-informed Chinese daily, says that the two companies are preparing to resume the Shanghai-Nanking run, and that calls would be made en route at Kiangyin, Tienhsingchiao, Kouan and Chinkiang.

SWATOW EXPORTS TO COLONYBRISK TRADE IN FOOD SUPPLIES

Swatow, Nov. 7.
With Swatow under the shadows of Japanese warships, imports of foreign goods have been suspended since last month, and vessels are arriving here with their holds half full. There is no demand at all for imported goods.

On the other hand, the export trade, especially in vegetables and live stock, is brisk. The low value of the dollar has encouraged exports to Hongkong and elsewhere. Eggs are also exported from here in large quantities.—International News.

FORT BAYARD SUPPLIES

Fort Bayard, Nov. 7.
The number of vessels plying between this port and Hongkong has been increased to six, and every outgoing vessel is laden with live stock and vegetable for Hongkong, whose supplies from Canton have been cut off since the Japanese invasion.

Pigs, cows, and chickens are raised here and have a good market in Hongkong.—International News.

U.S. EXPORTS OF PLANES

The United States' foreign trade in aeronautical products is strikingly shown in Department of Commerce figures, which reveal that, for the first six months of 1938, total exports amounted to $37,121,659, or an increase of 128 per cent over the similar period of 1937.

From Los Angeles alone, $1,000,000 of planes and accessories were shipped last month.
While Japan, Argentina, China, U.S.S.R., Netherlands Indies and Canada were the principal buyers, exports were fairly well distributed in every part of the world, according to the Department's publication, "Aeronautical World News."

MEDIUM PRICED FORD CAR

The Ford Motor Company has announced plans for a new line of cars in the "lower medium-priced" range, to be known as the Mercury Eight.

The Mercury will be priced between the company's Ford V-8 and the V-12 Lincoln Zephyr. It will have a wheelbase of 116 inches, a V-8 motor, and will be equipped with hydraulic brakes.

BICYCLES IN FRANCE

The bicycle-owning population of France increased in 1937 compared with 1936 by 527,000 bicycles, with a like increase in Treasury tax receipts. The Treasury receipts for licences in 1937 totalled about 97,000,000 francs. The total number of bicycles in operation in France is now about 4,094,000.

RUSH FOR SHARES OF WOOLWORTH'S

Over £25,000,000 was subscribed when the list of application for Woolworth shares was closed one minute after the opening on November 1 in London.

The sale offer consisted of 2,200,000 six-shilling shares at 68 shillings, which were recently repatriated from the United States.

"NOW

full of Energy and Cheer"

"As for Sanatogen, it can never be beaten, it is just like drinking magic, and those who have had a nervous breakdown, like myself, please tell them to try Sanatogen. I can eat, sleep and enjoy life now. It is life, and life is wonderful when there is health, and there is health in every bottle of Sanatogen."

writes an enthusiastic Sanatogen user.

Take a course of Sanatogen and enjoy Youth and Health again. Headache, nervousness, anaemia, and fatigue after a full day's work will soon disappear, for Sanatogen gives your body and nerves the strength they need.

SANATOGEN strengthens and soothes the nerves and revitalises the blood. Buy a bottle at once. You will soon enjoy work and leisure and not only feel young but look young too.

FIVE WEEKS' WAGES FOR DRINKS

Workers who are also drinkers may have to work more than five weeks a year to pay for their refreshment.

This fact was brought forward at the Temperance Summer School in Birmingham when Mr. George B. Wilson, for 28 years compiler of Great Britain's "drink bill," spoke of the statistics of liquor.

Mr. Wilson said that the 1937 drink bill of Great Britain showed a total expenditure of $259,287,000. This figure exceeded, he declared, the total amount to the nation in income tax, was greater than the estimated value of the country's agricultural produce, and easily outstripped the total expenditure on coal.

He pointed out that the working man who drinks two pints of beer a day pays a voluntary "income tax" of $6. With a wage of $3 a week he worked 54 weeks to pay for his drinks.

Siam Prepares
To Welcome
Boy King

Bangkok, Nov. 7

Elaborate preparations have been made in Bangkok for the reception of the boy King, Ananda Mahidol, upon his arrival here less than two weeks hence.

The first towns to fête the King, however, will not be in Siam. They will be Penang and Singapore. Arriving at the former port in the m.v. Meonia, he will be welcomed by a deputation as well as by the British Resident there.

In Singapore, the young King will be entertained on Armistice Day at a tea party by the Governor, Sir Shenton Thomas.

The King will leave the Meonia at Koh-Si-Chang, where he is due on November 15, and will board the Siamese gunboat, Sri Ayurhya. He will grant his first audience to members of his Government while proceeding up the Menam River to the capital—Transocean.

GOVERNOR'S VISIT TO MACAO

honoured and distinguished representatives of a nation that is allied to Portugal, Macao offers you a very hearty and earnest welcome for the nation whose friendship and loyalty is so highly prized by all of us.

CRITICAL WORLD PHASE

The world is passing through a most critical phase. In its political history, and our mission is fraught with difficulty, which even Macao, small as it is, senses and from which it suffers.

We aspire to an early and permanent peace among all peoples, and it fills us with joy to be able to look back to the long years of the great good fellowship that has characterised the relations that subsist between Hongkong and Macao, and to know that that same spirit will always endure, for the good of peace and order, accompanied by an era of prosperity for both.

I toast the prosperity of Hongkong, under Your Excellency's distinguished and enlightened government, associated with my most sincere good wishes for the ever closer and increasing friendship of the two Allied peoples, and I ask you, ladies and gentlemen, to drink with me to the health of His Majesty King George the Sixth of Great Britain.

SIR GEOFFREY'S REPLY

Your Excellency.—Permit me in the first place, on behalf of the Sovereign whom I have the honour to represent, to tender to you and to your distinguished guests most sincere and appreciative thanks for the toast of his health which you just proposed and which has been drunk so handsomely.

Secondly, I desire to thank you on behalf of my wife and myself for the welcome which has been so cordially and charmingly extended to us this morning. It is, I can assure Your Excellency, with the greatest pleasure that we find ourselves in this ancient Colony of Macao, which has, during the last four centuries, so often given shelter to British sailors and traders.

The oldest of all our allies, Portugal, we know, yields place to none in friendship for our country and we, in our turn, value most highly and reciprocate most strongly that vivid amity which endures between the two peoples.

CO-OPERATION NEEDED

Your Excellency has spoken of the present troublous times. That phrase is, unfortunately, especially applicable to Macao and Hongkong at this very moment and the need for co-operation between the two Colonies is very obvious at this juncture. I am confident that it will be freely forthcoming from both sides.

It was delightful to hear, Your Excellency speak with such kindness of our British Colony. The welcome which we have given to you in the past and hope to repeat in the future is not merely to the representative of an allied Power.

In addition to that, it is a happy greeting of one whom we regard as a sincere friend of long standing; believe me, Sir, you occupy a warm place in our hearts.

And now I will ask my fellow guests to rise with heartfelt goodwill towards our neighbour Colony and its Governor and to drink the health of the President of the Portuguese Republic.

At 4 p.m., Sir Geoffrey and party toured the city. They re-embarked

GOLD REVALUATION IN FRANCE IMMINENTNew Finance Minister's Programme

Paris, November 7.

THE FINANCE MINISTER, M. Reynaud's programme will, according to "Epoque," probably include a revaluation of the gold stock of the Bank of France on the basis of 180 francs to the pound sterling. This revaluation had already been planned by M. Reynaud's predecessor, M. Marchand.

C. CHAMPERN.

D.S.P. (R.).

Hongkong, November 7.

"Epoque" states that a large loan is also contemplated which will, for the greater part, be reserved for subscribers to the previous State loans and, like the latter, will not be liable to income tax. The programme will provide for vigorous measures of economy in all departments save those of national defence. As regards the hours of work, the 40-hour week will be abolished and replaced by the 45-hour week.

The paper adds that M. Reynaud will demand three to four years for the realisation of the programme.

IMMENSE EFFORTS

"Petit Parisien" believes that M. Reynaud will have finished his task of drawing up the balance sheet by Monday. This balance sheet, says the paper, will clearly show that the extreme limit has been reached and that a restoration of French finances will require immense efforts, imposing heavy burdens on all sections of the population. These burdens will have to be borne as a national duty.

"Le Journal" likewise affirms that the delay of five days asked by M. Reynaud for drawing up his balance sheet will in no case be exceeded. M. Reynaud will expose the situation to his colleagues in the Cabinet either on Monday or Tuesday, and it is hoped that decrees embodying the Finance Minister's programme will be published on Saturday or Sunday.—Transocean.

NOTED CHINESE
SOLDIER DIESGen. Chiang Po-li's
Career

Kweilin, Nov. 7.

General Chiang Po-li, acting President of the Chinese Military Academy, died of a sudden heart attack at the age of 57 at Lshan, west of Lichow in Kwangsi, on Friday last while on his way to Tsunyi, Kweichow, on an official mission.

A native of Haining, Chekiang, General Chiang obtained the rank of Shu Tsi in the Manchurian regime. He graduated from the Military Academy in Japan and later studied military science in Germany. After his return to China, he served as counselor to General Chao Erh-sun, then Governor of Manchuria, and later became principal of the Military Academy there.

In 1935, he went to Europe to study military affairs and attended the autumn manoeuvres of the armies of various countries. The result of this trip was a treatise on national defence which created a deep impression among the Chinese military leaders.

Last winter, he made another trip to Europe to inspect military affairs by order of the National Government. He visited Germany, Italy, France and England and returned to China this spring.

MANY ACCOMPLISHMENTS
General Chiang was a man of a strong sense of responsibility. Not only a master of military science, he was well-versed in literature, natural sciences, diplomacy, political and economic sciences, and also had a good command of the English, French, German, Italian and Japanese languages.

He is survived by his wife and four daughters.

A message of condolence from Generalissimo Chiang Kai-shek has been received by the family of the late General Chiang.—Central News.

NEW JAPANESE
ORGANISATION.

Tokyo, Nov. 7.

The Cabinet is planning to form a national organisation composed of political, financial and journalistic groups to help to decide China policies and does not intend to create a new political party, says the "Tokyo Asahi".

What the Premier desires, the paper says, is "prompt disposal of the China conflict" rather than permanent reorganisation of political parties.—Reuter.
